Helpful Tips for Purchasing Local Foods

Respect the farmer's home.

Many farm stands are on private property and may be close to people's homes. Avoid wandering as there may be delicate crops, equipment, and animals nearby.

Be prepared with cash and change.

Many farm stands are cash only and use an honor system, meaning there may not be someone available to break larger bills.

Bring your own bags.

Bring your own bags and return any reusable packaging when possible.

Check the hours beforehand.

Contact the farm in advance if you're unsure of their location or hours. Especially on Sundays, as many farmstands are closed.

Shop earlier in the day.

Shop earlier in the day for fresher produce and more variety.

Always rinse your produce.

Always rinse your produce under running water, even before sampling.

ABOUT THIS GUIDE

Check out this guide to find the freshest and tastiest food around, all grown and made by our neighbors. When you shop at these farms and businesses, you're supporting our local community by keeping your money close to home. The farms and shops in this guide have certified they grow or make the food they sell.

When you shop at a farmers market you have the opportunity to meet and visit with the farmers who grow your food. You can ask questions to learn about local agriculture and how your food is grown and harvested.

Shopping at a farmers market is a family-friendly experience. Get the whole family involved in local agriculture and foods early for life-long skills in healthy eating and living in Jefferson County!

You can ask the farmers questions like "What do you put in your soil?" and "What do your animals eat?" to learn more about how each farm operates. It's all about knowing where your food comes from!

We also list the farmers markets, retailers, and restaurants where you can find locally grown and produced foods.

Throughout the guide you will see pictures of local farms, foods, markets, and farmers. These images were provided by Cornell Cooperative Extension employees, local farmers, and other Jefferson County community members.

FOOD BENEFIT PROGRAMS

Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP):

SNAP/EBT is welcome at participating farmers markets to purchase as many $1 wooden tokens as you'd like. These tokens act as cash within the market.

Tokens may be used at any market booth that displays the "Food Stamp (EBT) Tokens Accepted Here" sign. Tokens may be used to purchase fruits and vegetables, seeds and plants that grow food, breads, meat, fish, poultry, eggs, dairy products, maple and honey products, wrapped and labeled baked goods, jams, sauces, and soups. They cannot be used to purchase alcohol, tobacco products, non-food items, food meant to be eaten on-site, hot foods, vitamins, or medicines. Unused tokens may be saved for the next time you shop the market; tokens do not expire. Unused tokens may also be exchanged at the token booth for a refund back onto your SNAP/EBT card. Tokens are market-specific and cannot be transferred between markets as each token is labeled with the particular market it was distributed from. Individual market vendors, farm stands, and mobile markets certified to accept EBT may also accept SNAP with an EBT card reader. Look for signage identifying that EBT cards are accepted at these locations.

Currently, the Watertown Farm and Craft Market is the only market in the county that distributes the SNAP Tokens. However, there are several market vendors that accept SNAP-EBT directly with their farm. Those farms have been indicated in this guide for accessibility in spending SNAP benefits on locally produced products.

FreshConnect (FCC), CNY Health Bucks, Double Up Food Bucks (DUFb):

These programs provide additional dollars to increase the purchasing power of SNAP consumers at participating farmers markets. The Fresh Connect Checks (FCC) program and the Double up Food Bucks program encourages recipients to use their SNAP benefits at participating farmers markets. With these programs, an additional dollar is distributed to consumers for each consumer exchange of SNAP benefits for wooden tokens or participating SNAP-EBT transaction. These additional benefit checks may be issued to be spent at the market on any SNAP eligible foods (FCC) or additional fresh fruits and vegetables (DUFb). FCC is also available to Veterans, service members, and their immediate family members. They can be picked up at the NYS Dept of Veterans Services offices at 317 Washington St in Watertown or in Clark Hall on Fort Drum, and at participating farmers markets.

CNY Health Bucks are $2 coupons distributed through food pantries, soup kitchens, and other anti-hunger organizations. Consumers who use SNAP benefits may also receive CNY Health Bucks to spend more on local products found at farmers markets. For more information, contact Food Bank of Central New York at 315-437-1899.

Have questions or concerns about your eligibility for SNAP benefits or changes in your SNAP benefits, contact the Jefferson County Outreach Coordinator at 315-437-1899 x279.

Farmers Market Nutrition Program (FMNP):

FMNP provides checks to women, infants and children through the Women, Infants and Children Program (WIC) and to income-eligible seniors (60 years or older) through the Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP) for the purchase of locally grown, fresh, unprocessed fruits and vegetables at farmers markets, roadside stands, and mobile markets that have been approved by the state agency to accept FMNP coupons. The program runs from June 1 - November 30. WIC participants can call their local agency to have checks mailed or to arrange pick up.

Here in Jefferson County, that number is 315-782-9222 for the local WIC office. Eligible seniors can pick up from the Office for the Aging at the Jefferson County Office Building at 175 Arsenal St. or call 315-785-3191 for more information. Aren't sure whether you're eligible for FMNP coupons? Call these numbers to speak to a representative about eligibility guidelines or call the Cornell Cooperative Extension office at 315-788-8450 to find out more information.

Looking for recipes and resources on preparing and eating healthy on a budget?

Contact the CCE Nutrition Department at jefferson@cornell.edu or 315-788-8450.

FOOD BENEFIT PROGRAMS

Mobile Food Pantry - an emergency food resource for rural Jefferson County:

Community Action Planning Council (CAPC) of Jefferson County is operating a Mobile Food Pantry which serves rural areas of Jefferson County and Fort Drum. Emergency food packages are distributed through the Mobile Food Pantry and are customizable for consumer and household preferences. Call CAPC at 315-782-4900 to learn more about the Pantry schedule and locations, or to learn more about placing an order for a customizable emergency food package.

The Mobile Food Pantry schedule is below. This schedule is subject to change based on community need. Call CAPC at 315-782-4900 or email info@capcjc.org to confirm Mobile Food Pantry dates and locations.

Mobile Food Pantry Schedule:

First Monday of each Month:

Evans Mills, Jack Williams Community Park at 8135 Schell Ave: 9:30-11:30 AM

Black River, Intersection of W Dexter St. and Public Square (near gazebo): 1-2:30 PM

Second Monday of each Month:

Redwood Fire Department, 43676 Stine Rd: 9:30-11:30 AM

Depauville Fire Department, 15231 School St: 1-2:30 PM

Third Monday of each Month:

Fort Drum Rhicard Hills Community Center, 8499 Lewis Ave: 10-11:30 AM

Fort Drum Adirondack Creek Community Center, 9797 Constitution Blvd: 12:30-2 PM

Fort Drum MEDDAC Food Resource Guide:

The Fort Drum MEDDAC team of Dietitians has created a comprehensive Food Resource Guide that includes all the locations in Jefferson County where residents can access food resources. While the Food Resource Guide contains specific eligibility requirements for military service members and veterans and includes food access opportunities specific to Fort Drum, it is also the most comprehensive list of food pantries and soup kitchens across all of Jefferson County. The Food Resource Guide can be found using the QR Code seen here. Please contact the Cornell Cooperative Extension of Jefferson County office at 315-788-8450 with your questions.

North Country Fruit & Vegetable Prescription Program (NC FVRx):

Cornell Cooperative Extension is implementing this 6-week program that provides nutrition education, healthy recipes, and $25 worth of vouchers at each session for fresh fruits and vegetables. Those who qualify for this program are individuals at risk of, or have been diagnosed with, a diet-related chronic disease or are experiencing food insecurity. The goal of this program is to help individuals learn new, healthy ways to include more fruits and vegetables in their diet so that they can lead healthier lives. Vouchers are redeemable at participating producers and retailers. Many redemption sites are local producers found at farmers markets listed in this Local Food Guide.

Ask your health care provider or community health services agency for more information on how to receive a referral into this program. Many healthcare networks in the North Country are able to write referrals for this program. CCE Jefferson Parenting and Local Foods Programs, Community Action Planning Council, Office for the Aging, WIC Offices, Fort Drum MEDDAC, and Fort Drum Family Advocacy Program are some of the community agencies who are able to refer participants into the NC FVRx program. Please contact the Cornell Cooperative Extension of Jefferson County office at 315-788-8450 if you have questions about this program.

CAPTURE THE HEART OF LOCAL LIFE –

SUBMIT YOUR BEST SHOTS! 📷🌿

There's something truly special about the sights, colors, and energy of local agriculture and farmers markets. Whether it's a rainbow of fresh produce, baskets brimming with seasonal goodies, or the buzz of a Saturday morning crowd—you have the power to show what makes our local food scene so unique.

We're calling on community members, market lovers, foodies, photographers (amateur or pro!), and anyone who appreciates local food to help us celebrate by capturing it through your lens. This is your chance to help tell the story of our local food system—one photo at a time. Selected submissions may be featured in upcoming campaigns, exhibits, or online galleries to showcase the importance of supporting local agriculture.

So grab your camera or phone, head out to your favorite farm stand or farmers market, and start snapping! Show us what local looks like through your eyes.

Call our local foods team at 315-788-8450 x248 with questions. Photos can be submitted using a Google form found on our website. Access our website using this QR code!
